

Kellie Rosin
Cabin 1

I think hope is love. I think love is friendship for people who are sick. I think friendship is love for people who need it.
I think the people who need it will really care. I think hope is love for people who really, really care. I think people love the other people that do it for them. People love each other because they are family + friends. Love is care.
Uncles + grandmas + grandpas love us and each other too.
