STORY

2 or 3 years ago my lil bro was diagnosed with Cancer in his right elbow. (dominant arm). Immediately the dreams of our future in the ~~set~~ new schools we moved to, vanished. 1 long year of surgeries, needles, poking, chemotherapy, and online school, he is cancer free. That day was the best in my entire life. The moral of the story is that fear wins by making you think your alone. It takes a family to hope.
