What is Hope?

~~my hope~~ my hope is my brother, I don't ~~remember~~ remember much from when i was sick but i remember him always being there with me, I know that all of the hospital stuff was probably hard for him cause my mom would spend more time with me but he ~~was~~ always understanding. hes been my biggest inspiration since when i was little, I used to always copy him because I wanted to be like him, something I really like is how he can always see the good in things so that's why hes my hope.
